

ICBI ASSOCIATE MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION FORM

(please complete as a handwritten signed document and either post or scan and email)

Criteria for Associate Membership of Independent Craft Brewers of Ireland (ICBI):

1. Associate Membership in the ICBI is open to individuals and companies planning to operate their own brewery on the Island of Ireland.
2. The applicant must be an Irish (including NI) registered company.
3. Where the applicant company is currently brewing beer under contract, the contracted brewery must meet the full criteria for membership of the ICBI.ⁱ
4. Applicant company must declare that they are economically independent of any brewery producing over the micro volume limit as defined by Irish Revenue or HM Revenue & Customs.

Associate Membership is limited to a time period of two years and will be reviewed annually in January each year. After two years, associate members must either become eligible for full membership in the ICBI or show evidence that their development plans are concretely progressing. In the case of the latter, associate membership may be extended for an additional period of one year only.

Associate Members have no voting rights. They otherwise enjoy the same rights, benefits, and privileges as full members of the ICBI.

Associate Membership of the Independent Craft Brewers of Ireland (ICBI) is on an annual basis, and an annual membership fee, the rate of which is dependent on production levels will be payable 7 days after membership application has been approved.
